Support

DermaQuest's Therapeutic Support Treatments enhance the benefits of high-end beauty products, which target fine wrinkles, skin aging, and skin texture. These products are also rich with natural botanicals. The products contain a skin-repairing complex to maintain skin's natural moisture and elasticity.

These treatments also contain a higher strength of stem cells to stimulate skin's natural repair and regeneration. Stem cells are a source of new skin cells, helping to reduce the signs of aging. The products are also rich with natural botanicals, which help to soothe and hydrate the skin, and help to reduce the signs of aging.

Stem ageing

DermaQuest is offering the latest in anti-ageing technology with their new Glycolic Acid Resurfacer with stem cells.

Featuring superior plant stem cells - derived from lilac leaf - Glycolic Acid Resurfacer with Stem Cells is formulated by master chemist Sam Dhatt. Plant stem cells have been shown to stimulate human stem cell growth and preserve existing cells, helping to replenish the skin and fight these signs of ageing.

This is a professional product and is available in 30, 40 and 70 percent formulas. In addition to plant stem cells, the new products feature anti-inflammatory and soothing plant extracts such as meadowsweet and bilberry, exfoliating sugar maple and sugar cane, as well as collagen -boosting Gotu Kola and the amino acids tyrosine, arginine and lysine.
